Entrance Antiphon:
God is in his holy place, God who unites those who dwell in his house; he himself gives might and strength to his people. Alleluia.

Responsorial Psalm:
Lord, on the day, I called for help, you answered me. Alleluia, alleluia! You have received the Spirit which makes us God's children, and in that spirit we call God our Father. Alleluia.

Gospel Acclamation:
Alleluia, alleluia! You have received the Spirit which makes us God's children, and in that spirit we call God our Father. Alleluia.

This Weekend Readings: Seventeenth Sunday in Ord. Times, Year C

A reading from the Holy Gospel according to Luke: Ask, and it will be given to you.

Once Jesus was in a certain place praying, and when he had finished, one of his disciples said, ‘Lord, teach us to pray, just as John taught his disciples.’ He said to them, ‘Say this when you pray: “Father, may your name be held holy, your kingdom come; give us each day our daily bread, and forgive us our sins, for we ourselves forgive each one who is in debt to us. And do not put us to the test.”’ He also said to them, ‘Suppose one of you has a friend and goes to him in the middle of the night and says, “My friend, lend me three loaves because a friend of mine on his travels has just arrived at my house and I have nothing to offer him”’, and the man answers from inside the house, “Do not bother me. The door is bolted now, and my children and I are in bed; I cannot get up to give it to you.” I tell you, if the man does not get up and give it to him for friendship’s sake, persistence will be enough to make him get up and give his friend all he wants. ‘So I say to you: Ask, and it will be given to you; search, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened to you. For the one who asks always receives; the one who searches always finds; the one who knocks will always have the door opened to him. What father among you would hand his son a stone when he asked for bread? Or hand him a snake instead of a fish? Or hand him a scorpion if he asked for an egg? If you then, who are evil, know how to give your children what is good, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him!’

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Seventeenth Sunday in Ord. Times, Year C

In Jesus day there was no mail no telephone and no late night shopping so guests arrived and said here I am. Also because there was no TV no there were no movies I guess visitors were welcomed with joy. Jesus says “suppose one of you has a friend who goes to him in the middle of the night to borrow bread to offer to a guest” I have never had someone knock on my door in the middle of the night with such a request, yet in Jesus day that was part of life, neighbours weren’t surprised to be awakened by others in need. This reminds me that Jesus experienced a human community much closer than ours is today. In suburban Melbourne I can call for an ambulance or a pizza I don’t depend on my neighbours in the way that people did in Jesus day. Jesus called on neighbours for help it was how one lived. So when Jesus says we are not just neighbours but brothers and sisters: all children of one Father he really expects great things of us in our care for one another.
