A reading from the Holy Gospel according to Mark:
He shall gather his elect from the four winds.

Jesus said to his disciples: 'In those days, after the time of distress, the sun will be darkened, the moon will lose its brightness, the stars will come falling from heaven and the powers in the heavens will be shaken. And then they will see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory; then too he will send the angels to gather his chosen from the four winds, from the ends of the world to the ends of heaven.

'Take the fig tree as a parable: as soon as its twigs grow supple and its leaves come out, you know that summer is near. So with you, when you see these things happening: know that he is near, at the very gates. I tell you solemnly, before this generation has passed away all these things will have taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.

'But as for that day or hour, nobody knows it, neither the angels of heaven, nor the Son; no one but the Father.'

The Gospel of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Thirty-Third Sunday
The sun will be darkened the moon will lose its brightness, the stars will come falling from heaven… before this generation has passed away all these things will have taken place. Heaven and earth will pass away but my words will not pass away.

This Gospel shows us that the people of St Mark’s day thought the world would end suddenly while they were still alive. As we come to the end of the Liturgical year and prepare for Advent and Christmas we are invited to look at these difficult readings and learn from them. We learn first that while the sun shines and the moon and the stars glow weakly above our city lights, we can be more appreciative of the gift of life and second, so much in the world has changed but Jesus words “Love God with all your heart and love your neighbour as yourself.” Mk 12:29-31 these words do not pass away, we must be the ones to keep Jesus words alive.

Book of Memoirs - Holy Child

To this effect, next weekend at all Masses we will have a Special Collection to fill this gap. Thank you for your support and generosity.
