Entrance Antiphon:
The Lord said: I think thoughts of peace and not of affliction. You will call upon me, and I will answer you, and I will lead back your captives from every place.

Responsorial Psalm:
Happy are those who fear the Lord.

Gospel Acclamation:
Alleluia! Alleluia! Live in me and let me live in you, says the Lord: my branches bear much fruit. Alleluia.

The Gospel of the Lord.

A reading from the Holy Gospel according to Matthew:

Because you have been faithful over a few things, enter into the joy of the Lord.

Jesus spoke this parable to his disciples: "The kingdom of heaven is like a man on his way abroad who summoned his servants and entrusted his property to them. To one he gave five talents, to another two, to a third one; each in proportion to his ability. Then he set out. The man who had received the five talents promptly went and traded with them and made five more. The man who had received two made two more in the same way. But the man who had received one went off and dug a hole in the ground and hid his master's money. Now a long time after, the master of those servants came back and went through his accounts with them. The man who had received the five talents came forward bringing five more. "Sir", he said "you entrusted me with five talents; here are five more that I have made." His master said to him "Well done, good and faithful servant; you have shown you can be faithful in small things. Now you will receive your lord's further trust; enter into your master's joy." And the man with the two talents came forward. "Sir", he said "you entrusted me with two talents; here are two more that I have made." His master said to him "Well done, good and faithful servant; you have shown you can be faithful in small things. Now you will receive your lord's further trust; enter into your master's joy." And the man with the one talent came forward. "Sir", he said "I had heard you were a hard man, reaping where you have not sown and gathering where you have not scattered, so I was afraid, and I went off and hid your talent in the ground. Here it is; it was yours, you have it back." But his master answered him, "You wicked and lazy servant! So you knew that I reaped where I have not sown and gather where I have not scattered? Well then, you should have deposited my money with the bankers, and on my return I would have recovered my capital with interest. Now then, take the talent from him and give it to the man who has the five talents. For to everyone who has will be given more, and he will have more than enough; but from the man who has not, even what he has will be taken away. As for this good and faithful servant, you have shown you can be faithful in small things, I will trust you with greater; come and join in your master's joy.""
Thirty-Third Sunday in Ord. Times

Today rather than comment on the Gospel I will draw from what St Paul says in our second reading. Paul says that the “day of the Lord” will come like a thief in the night, unexpectedly like labour pains come to a pregnant woman. Paul and his readers believed that the end of the world would come while they were all still alive. We think of it differently now, but Paul’s message is still valid. Do not wander through life without direction, or are you. “You are sons (and daughters) of light”: you know what to commit your life to. So make decisions; help build the Kingdom here. Make Christ present to those around you.
