A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark:

The leprosy left him and he was cured.

A leper came to Jesus and pleaded on his knees: 'If you want to' he said 'you can cure me.' Feeling sorry for him, Jesus stretched out his hand and touched him. 'Of course I want to!' he said. 'Be cured!' And the leprosy left him at once and he was cured. Jesus immediately sent him away and sternly ordered him, 'Mind you say nothing to anyone, but go and show yourself to the priest, and make the offering for your healing prescribed by Moses as evidence of your recovery.' The man went away, but then started talking about it freely and telling the story everywhere, so that Jesus could no longer go openly into any town, but had to stay outside in places where nobody lived. Even so, people from all around would come to him.

The Gospel of the Lord

Praise to you Lord Jesus Christ.

Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time Year B

In our Gospel it says Jesus "feeling sorry for him,.... touched the leper and cured him", in the original Greek, (I am told) Jesus was outraged/incensed, because lepers were treated so badly: outcast by society and labelled unclean by the religion. Unfortunately in this English version we don't see Jesus as passionate about justice. Yet that is why the authorities had him executed. When people are treated unjustly we need to be outraged we need to raise our voices. Fortunately today we see this passionate response against misuse of power, one example is the "me too movement" which has enabled women to speak up against men who bully or abuse them.
